

Endorsements

Through powerful exegesis and with a focus on relevant application Dr. Ogden allows us to eavesdrop on a private and transparent conversation within himself and reflection on practical ministry in this millennia and throughout the ages. In a contemporary context defined by hostility and tension and amidst a Church universal that is splintered and self-oriented we need this reminder of what true mercy is, where it originates, how it works, and most importantly what it calls us as disciples to do. Keith's insight and inspiration should and will challenge us all to reexamine our mission as we are compelled, like Christ, by mercy.

Dr. Howard John Wesley
Senior Pastor
Alfred Street Baptist Church
Alexandria, VA

A clarion call for all persons of faith to discharge the commission Jesus embodied by extending compassion to all who need it. Rich and wide-ranging experience in life and ministry, deep grounding in scriptures, and a wealth of practical wisdom flow together in vivid style to make this a book you won't want to miss.

Dr. Lance D. Watson, Senior Pastor
Saint Paul's Baptist Church
Richmond, VA

Dr. Keith A. Ogden is well prepared for what he has done here in "Walking In The Undeserved". His record of faithful stewardship is the best recommendation for this work. I am confident it will receive the acceptance it deserves.

Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, Pastor Emeritus
Concord Baptist Church, Brooklyn, NY

Pastor Keith A. Ogden has penned a volume that deserves to be put on the book shelf of every Christian who is interested in new and fresh insights into the mercy of God. The book is well researched and well written. I endorse this work without reservation!

Bishop John Richard Bryant,
Senior Bishop and Presiding Prelate of the Fourth Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church

In a very short time Dr. Ogden has rapidly developed into a outstanding Christian leader with an innate love and appreciation for those who are in need of compassion. His first publication is a testament as to why his work at the parish he serves is moving with such dynamic force. I found his work to be creative, perceptive and insightful as he encouraged the community of faith to look at the predicament of humanity through the lenses of compassion.

Dr. Major L. Jemison
Senior Pastor,
ST. John Missionary Baptist Church
Oklahoma City, OK
Former President of the Progressive National Baptist Convention

God is an inexhaustible fountain of mercy. When God's mercy is at work, we not only see mercy displayed, but we also see the power of God demonstrated. Dr. Keith A. Ogden in "Walking In The Undeserved" succinctly and practically expounds upon the transforming power of God's ubiquitous benevolence toward His creation. Dr. Ogden guides the reader in seeing that God's mercy is a cornerstone of stabilization, a campaign against being consumed and a catalogue of revelation. Amid our human frailty, "Walking In The Undeserved" brings to light that every morning we experience and bask in a basin of God's compassion.

Dr. Gary L. Williams Sr.
First Baptist Church of Mandarin
Jacksonville, FL

"Walking in the Undeserved" is the quintessential illustration of the acts of compassion Christ demonstrates in our lives. This timely piece on the mercies and graciousness of Christ is very real, relevant and resourceful. The author's appreciation of Christ's compassion makes this book a must read!

Dr. Kecia DeCosta Ford
Sharp Street United Methodist Church
Sandy Spring, MD

Dr. Ogden, with scriptural soundness and experiential authenticity, has produced a book underscoring the unmerited kindness of God. Keith reminds us that the compassion of God grants us permission, despite our finitude and failings, to access grace, through Jesus Christ, and to dare to do extraordinary works in His Name.

Rev. Alphonso E. McGlen,
Senior Pastor
Bethel AME Church, Greensboro, NC

